It gives me immense pleasure to know that Legal Aid Society, National Law University, Cuttack is launching its independent website which would act as a much needed online grievance redressal forum. The objective of this endeavour is to ensure and facilitate access to justice for marginalized people and social relevant legal education. And to make available legislations and legal tools in Odia is a commendable initiative in the process of justice delivery mechanism and legal aid.

I wish the initiative all success and hope it will be updated regularly with relevant materials.
